Speech and Debate Team Participates in First Competition

The newly formed Soledad Speech and Debate team attended and participated in its first debate tournament on Wednesday, October 7th, at Palo Alto High School.

- Soledad was tied for the largest team present at the tournament
- Soledad out performed half of the schools that attended the tournament
- Soledad student David Morales placed 3rd overall at the tournament

Teachers and coaches of the other speech and debate teams present were extremely impressed by the fact that Soledad offers five sections of Speech and Debate. The school in collaboration with the fundraising efforts of our students provided transportation for the team. It is equally noteworthy that the team is free of cost for our students; some of these schools charge $300 for a student to join the school's Speech and Debate team. All other teams present were thrilled that Soledad will be hosting a tournament.

Teams at the Palo Alto competition noticed the level of support from the school is unique, and without it the team wouldn't be able to exist.

The Speech and Debate team coach Mr. Grant Thomas offered this about his program, “Speech and Debate is an incredibly rewarding activity for students. Team members have worked very hard this season to get ready and despite going up against more experienced competition Soledad Speech and Debate team performed very well. David Morales received 3rd place overall. Other students who attended include Jorge Isaias, Marina Safi, Getsemani Puga, Madison Holman, Jasmine Medina, Leslie Macias, Alyssa Plascencia, Trinidad Garcia, and Alyzah Fregoso.”

First Student of the Month Recognition Ceremony

Soledad High School recognizes and appreciates the hard work and effort our students and teachers put forth each day. Thursday, October 8th was the first time we held a student of the month celebration. Each teacher at Soledad High School determined the criteria by which they would select their student of the month. Students were recognized for being especially helpful, positive, courteous, or academic. Parents, students, and teachers attended the event and enjoyed coffee and cookies. Teachers who were present presented Student of the Month Certificates to their students.

We are looking forward to monthly student of the month assemblies each month to honor our super star students.
